

Beauty therapists wanted. Open minds welcome. What makes Lox so different from ordinary salons and spas? It's an attitude of mind. Our philosophy that beauty begins within leads to a holistic approach to our clientele. So nutrition and general well being are an integral part of the treatment. That's why we're looking for therapists who are not just experienced but also enlightened. With open, enquiring minds and an interest in beauty that is more than just skin deep. Throw in a fabulous working environment and everything else you'll need to succeed, including receptionist support, client appointment management, laundry services, electric massage bed and the full range of luxury Janesce therapy products. Interested? If your mind is open, so is our door. For an information pack, please email lyndon@heliumnz.co.nz or telephone 04 916 2180 Closing date, Friday, Whatdate, 2008.
